1)

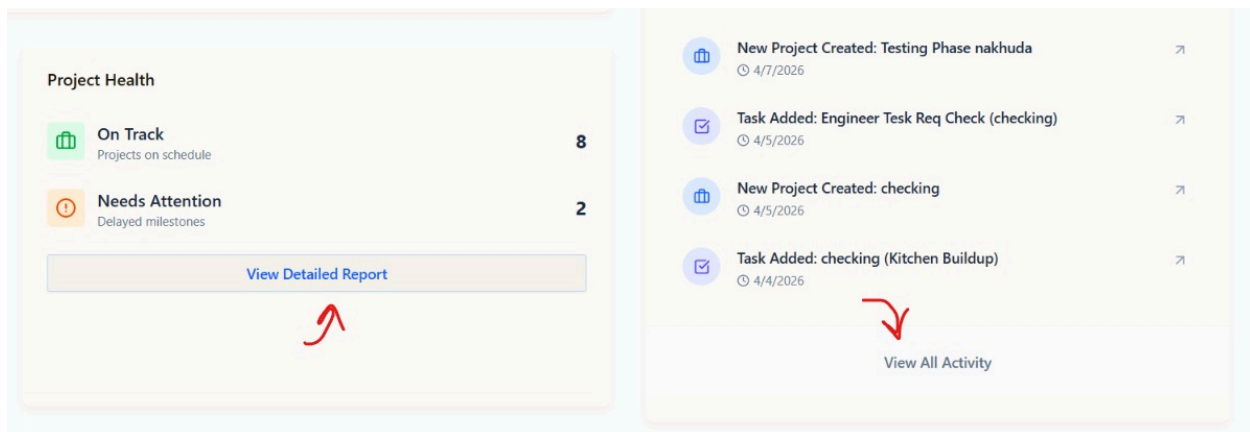

View Specs doesn't respond on clicking.

2)

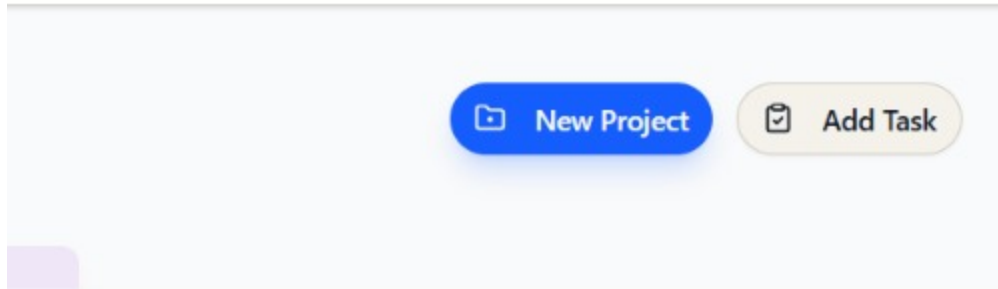

Platform is very resource intensive. Hangs up the whole OS.

3)

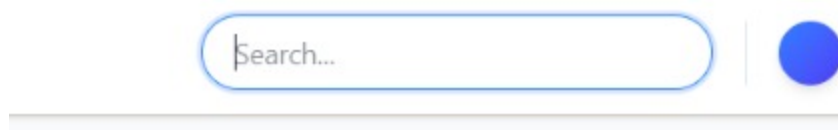

These two buttons don't work.

4)

New Project and Add Task redirects to their respective pages. They do not actually execute the specified operation: actually opening a new project window or new task window. If is an expected behavior then change the names of these buttons.

5)

Search functionality doesn't work.

6)

Edit and Delete operations don't work in Clients page (or section if that's how it is structured) and gives the following error (bottom right corner). Add Client operation works.

In Projects page, when editing any client or creating a new one (as shown in the above image), the created clients (in the Clients page) don't show up. Who are these people, then? 🤔

8)

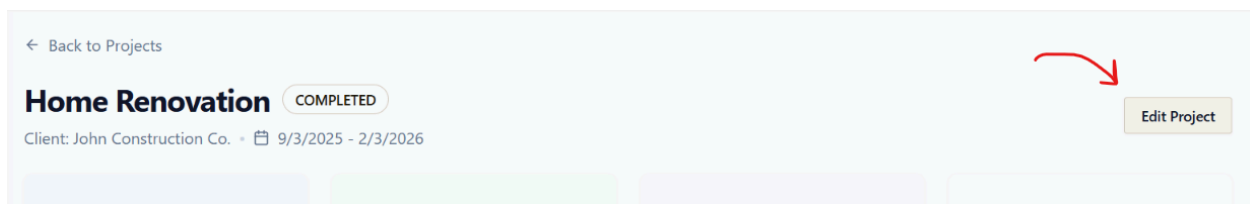

Delete operations don't work. It gives the following error as shown in image (in case delete, it's "Failed to delete project"). Edit operation works. Add operation detail needs changes: All entries are required, when I filled every text box then the project was added successfully.

9)

This loading icon keeps on spinning whether refresh button is pressed or not and whether refresh operation is done or not. It makes it look like the refresh is not done even though it is. Either remove this icon or make changes to its logic.

10)

The Edit Project button leads back to Projects page instead of opening the Edit menu. If this behavior is intentional then rename this button (something like "Back to Projects", etc.).

11)

The Requests page is very confusing. It is basically the projects that are created in Projects page that are shown here. Either that or this is different. That is why, clarity in this area is needed.

Document upload works in Documents page. Document viewing feature is not there. Document download practically ruins the document, as shown in the image. When I clicked the highlighted link, it just gives the following error:

A screenshot of an error message box with a yellow background and a grey border. The text inside the box is "Error loading \\?C:\Users\huzbi\Downloads\1778521130696-grandview.pdf" followed by a small 'X' icon in a circle.

After checking, inside Projects' Edit or Add option, the client selection is basically the users that are defined in Users page. Then what is the point of Clients page?
